Dear Gary, Jerry, Jim, and Ed:

It is my pleasure to thank you for your dedicated and ongoing support of prostate cancer research at the University of Chicago Medicine. Your generosity has an immediate and meaningful impact on our efforts to expand our understanding of prostate cancer and develop innovative therapies that will improve patient outcomes. With your help, Dr. Vander Griend and I have been able to advance early-stage research projects, purchase new equipment, and support the careers of young researchers in our lab. We are deeply grateful for your philanthropic support and commitment to our work.

I truly value your support and look forward to a continued partnership.

Sincerely,

Russell Szmulewitz, MD
